Lifting Solutions Group
Axel Johnson International

Lifting beams

Product information

The lifting beam is a versatile solution for the safe lifting and handling of various loads in industrial facilities, production environments, construction sites, and maintenance applications. Haklift supplies lifting beams and lifting frames tailored to the customer's dimensions and application requirements, providing solutions for a wide range of lifting and material handling tasks. The lifting beams can be equipped with various types of hooks and shackles to suit the intended application.

- Available according to the customer's dimensions and application requirements
- Suitable for lifting and handling a wide variety of loads
- Ideal for industrial and production lifting applications
- Suitable for construction and installation work
- Suitable for boat lifting applications
- Can be equipped with shackles and various types of hooks
- Can be customised to meet specific application requirements
- Standard models available from stock – contact our sales team for more information
- Delivery time for custom lifting beams is approximately 3–4 weeks

... Read more

Certex Polska
info@certex.pl
+48 91 817 28 49

© November 2026 - All Rights Reserved